Live Chat with Fellow Commercial Drivers in Your Area

It's like having a Free Digital CB

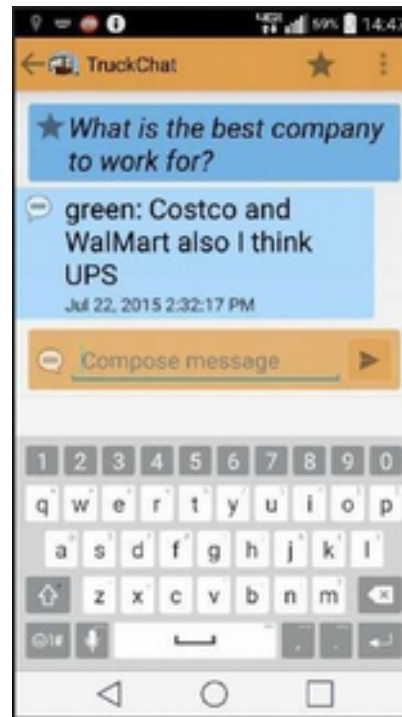

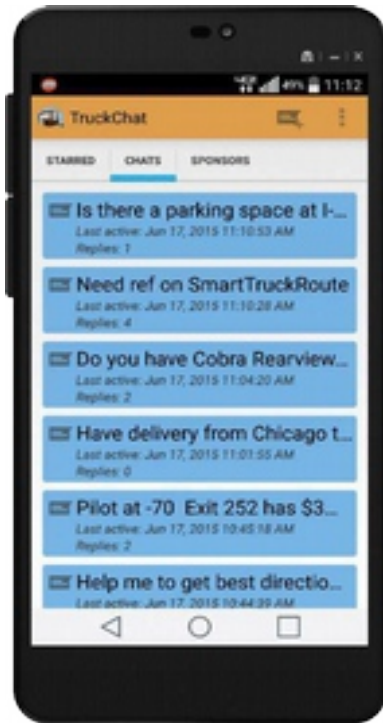

TruckChat

Introduction

TruckChat allows drivers to anonymously post and view messages within a specific mile radius of their current position while travelling. This will promote real time communications between truck drivers, allowing drivers to communicate about issues of relevance such as parking availability at truck stops and rest areas or specials of interest to drivers based on their location.

TruckChat is very simple and easy to use. There's no need to sign up or log in with emails. The best part about TruckChat is that it is completely free to everyone in the trucking industry. TruckChat is a very good way for everyone in the trucking industry to stay connected and make connections.

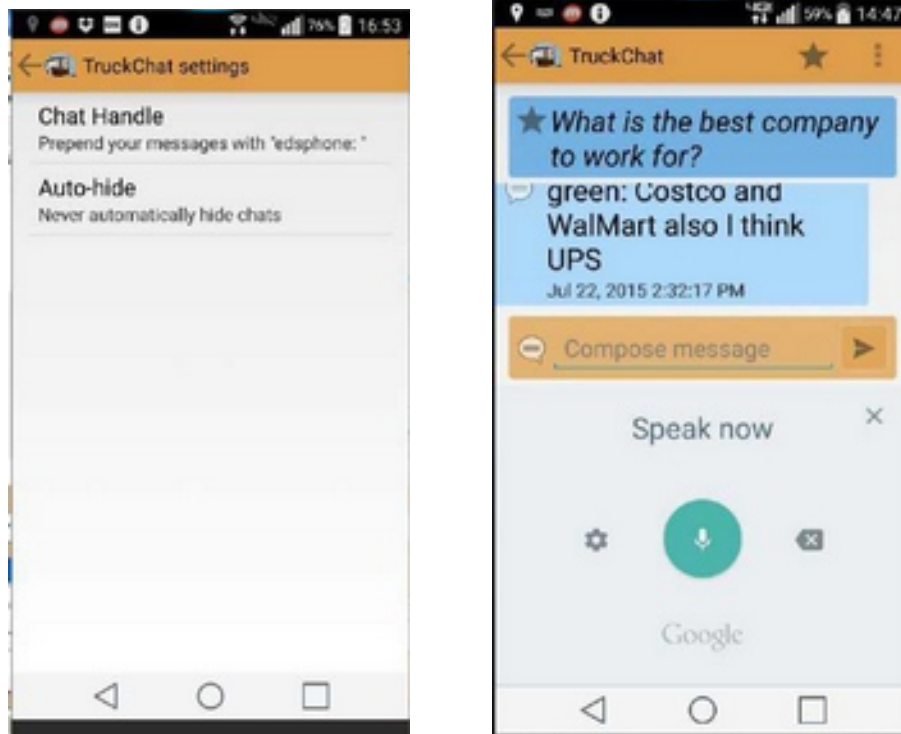

Chats – Start a new topic or reply to an existing chat

Usage

With TruckChat you have the ability to chat with drivers in your area. You can ask anything and let other drivers respond to you. Likewise, you can respond to other people's questions.

TruckChat is just like a CB Radio without the need for any special equipment. Just chat when you have some down time or riding with a co-driver. The app automatically figures out who is nearby so that you can easily communicate with other truck drivers. TruckChat is even better than a conventional CB since you have your responses in writing and you have a wider geographic area to make connections and get answers to your questions.

You can post job offers, loads, or information you think is valuable to drivers. Drivers can find loads, comment on truck stop facilities, specials, traffic, or anything of concern to other drivers. Drivers are also welcome to post technical support questions for any product and the community is encouraged to reply directly to drivers. Drivers and the trucking community at large are able to post both commercial and non commercial messages. There is no charge for any type of message.
